TOO MANY BILLS.

The Dayton Times says: The silver men in Congress seem to be getting the question considerably mixed up, or rather allowing the gold men to mix it up for them.

New bills are being introduced at a great rate, and it appears to be impossible for Congress to agree upon any one of them and settle down to work. It is very evident that the Secretary of the Treasury proposes to dictate to Congress what kind of a measure shall be adopted. What we want is free coinage; who gives it to us is a matter of secondary importance. Leave the party issue out of the silver question and there will be no trouble in handing to Mr. Harrison a free coinage measure for his signature next week. We doubt if Harrison would dare to veto such a bill. The people of Western States are beginning to see where the demonization of silver has hurt them and they are starting in dead earnest to bring about free coinage. From the States of Kansas and Nebraska petitions have been sent to Congress asking for free coinage. The Farmers' Alliance, a power in itself demands free coinage; the Pacific Coast and the South want it, and in vetoing such a measure Harrison would sign his death warrant politically. Should he veto it we would know where we stand, which would be more than anybody knows now. In the event of a veto there would be some hope left. It is claimed that three-fourths of the members are in favor of free coinage. It takes but a two-thirds vote to pass a measure over a veto, and that is what ought to be done if the matter comes to such an issue. Let us have no politics, juggling and double-dealing with a question that is of such vital importance to the masses of the people throughout the entire United States.

Gradually Growing Greater

Small wonder that our business is growing. We have the goods, the prices, and a very faithful worker in the Illustrated Catalogue which we send out Spring and Autumn. It "hangs on a peg" in thousands of homes, and is consulted as often as the almanac. It is a truthful book, - not a line put in to mislead. It is a happy, cheerful book, full of pictures and descriptions of things that will make life easier and pleasanter. It is an independent book, publishing its prices without fear of criticisms or comparisons. It is a just book, giving everyone the chance to get the same goods and prices as everybody else, and favoring neither the rich nor the poor, the high nor the low. It is a handy book, useful for reference or information, whether you buy of us or not. It is a book for people who want to know "what's going on" in the world of dress. The newest conceits, styles and inventions find places in its handsome pages. And it costs nothing! Sent free to any address on application. Weinstock, Lubin & Co., Sacramento, Cal.
